November, 2004

Dear Editor/Producer,

Over the last half-century, our country has been in a state of rapid moral decline. In just a few decades, we went from having a society of traditional family values to being a nation riddled with promiscuity, soaring divorce rates and sexual confusion reaching the youngest members of our families.

Many experts attribute this decline of morality to one man, Dr. Alfred Kinsey. Kinsey became a household name in the late 1940s and early 1950s due to the notoriety surrounding the publication of his books, Sexual Behavior in the Human Male (1948) and Sexual Behavior in the Human Female (1952), written while he was a professor at Indiana University. These books were based on questionable research conducted by Kinsey in the area of human sexuality, and they made claims that sent shock waves through our culture and scandalized many. Despite its seriously flawed methodology, Kinsey's research was widely accepted as scientific fact. It led directly to the establishment of modern sex education programs, and paved the way for society to accept behaviors that were previously considered morally illicit, even depraved.

In November, Hollywood is releasing a film about Kinsey and his research conducted at Indiana University. The production stars "A-list" actor Liam Neeson, Oscar-nominated Laura Linney, Chris O'Donnell, Oscar-winner Timothy Hutton, John Lithgow, Oliver Platt, and Tim Curry. The movie attempts to portray Kinsey as a hero, a pioneer in the field of "sex research" whose message liberated men and women from the fetters of traditional sexual morality.

The Kinsey Institute is 100 percent in support of the film, hoping it will restore Kinsey's tarnished image and, of course, its own financial interests. Hollywood and the porn industry have embarked on a massive advertising campaign to promote the movie and make every Kinsey critic look like a "religious fanatic."

The Kinsey Corruption successfully sheds light on the grossly perverse research conducted by Alfred Kinsey and his team of pedophiles. For more information, or to schedule an interview with the author, feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Lisa Wheeler

Hollywood Distortion: Sex, Lies and Alfred Kinsey!

(Carlsbad, CA – November 4, 2004) - A Catholic organization is claiming that Hollywood is trying to hoodwink American movie-goers in a forthcoming star-studded movie release. On November 19th, Fox Searchlight will release Kinsey, a new film that glorifies the sordid life and work of Alfred C. Kinsey, the famous sex researcher whose pseudo-scientific studies corrupted countless academics and paved the way for the sexual revolution of the 1960's. Starring Academy Award nominee Liam Neeson, the movie has been called “provocative,” “erotic” and the “hottest script in town,” according to media insiders.

“What Hollywood isn’t telling the public is, well...very telling,” explains Matthew Pinto, one of the founders of the lay-run initiative, Catholic Outreach. “The movie portrays the life and work of a man who was almost single-handedly responsible for dismantling many of the sexual mores that governed American culture for two centuries.” Kinsey’s work also negatively impacted two generations of students through amoral sex education,” explains Pinto.

To get the message out, Catholic Outreach last week released The Kinsey Corruption: An Exposé on the Most Influential “Scientist” of Our Time, a 96-page book written by award-winning journalist Susan Brinkman. Based on twenty years of research from leading Kinsey critic Dr. Judith Reisman, the new book was developed to point out the distortions and present the truth that is left untold by the new film, offering another view on the man who is lionized in the controversial movie.

Catholic Outreach says that the film’s writer and director leaves out critical facts about Kinsey’s real life and portrays him as a sexual liberator—a visionary who helped free popular culture from its repressed sexuality. The truth is that Alfred Kinsey was instrumental in bringing about the widespread acceptance of perversity and immorality that exists today.

Author Susan Brinkman and Dr. Judith Reisman, as well as other cultural commentators, are available for interviews on the movie, the book, and related issues. Please contact Lisa Wheeler at 770.509.0531 or by e-mail at lisaw@catholicoutreach.com.

Overview:

In this book, written by award-winning correspondent Susan Brinkman of Philadelphia's The Catholic Standard & Times, you will learn:

- How Dr. Alfred Kinsey presented as "normal" data that he collected from incarcerated sex offenders, criminals, and prostitutes.
- Which of today's most popular notions about sex are based on Kinsey's flawed conclusions, such as that children are sexual from birth, that 10 percent of the population is homosexual, and that sexual promiscuity is normal.
- That Kinsey engaged in criminal experimentation on children and used "data" he collected from some of the world's most notorious pedophiles to arrive at his conclusions.
- How the American Law Institute incorporated Kinsey's research into the Model Penal Code of 1955, resulting in greatly diminished penalties for sex crimes.
- About the unholy union of Kinsey, Playboy, and Planned Parenthood in the creation of today's sex education curriculum in many of today's schools.

Catholic Outreach is a lay-run ministry dedicated to creating and distributing high-impact, low-cost evangelization and faith formation resources for Catholic evangelism and outreach. We profess faith in Jesus Christ and proclaim the teachings of Christ as revealed through the Sacred Scripture and the Catholic Church.

The Catholic Outreach model is one in which we can quickly and efficiently develop high-quality resources to help inform Christians about major issues affecting their everyday lives.

Following the success of A Guide to the Passion, Catholic Outreach focuses its time and limited resources on evangelization tools that we believe deliver the greatest results at costs that encourage mass distribution.

Our second Outreach initiative was the Catholic Voter Project, featuring the Five Issues That Matter Most book. Catholic Outreach is an evangelization ministry. We are not a political organization, nor do we endorse any political party. Nor are we affiliated with any political party's outreach to Catholics. The Voter Project was done expressly to educate Catholics on the key moral issues that face Americans.

Our present initiative is Kinsey Outreach. We have prepared a book and support materials (small study group manual, free parish posters and flyers) to help people counter the movie, "Kinsey", which debuts November 12th. Catholics must know the truth about the man who started a devastating cultural revolution.

Catholic Outreach is not exclusively affiliated with any one publisher or apostolate, but rather seeks to partner with organizations that have resources that offer "high impact, low-cost" tools of evangelization and catechesis.
